THE DEATH OF A PIONEER.
The Hon. E. T. Gardner, of Monroe, one of the oldest settlers in Southern Wisconsin, died at his residence near that village on Monday, at the age of 69. He had been a resident of the State thirty-eight years, living nearly all that time at Monroe. In 1847 he represented Dane, Green, and Sauk counties in the Territorial House of Representatives, when Isaac P. Walker was Speaker, and in 1848 served again. At the first session of the Legislature under a State Government, he became a member of the Senate and served two years. For many years he was out of politics, and from 1848 to 1876 filled no public office outside the county. In 1876 he was elected Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, a position he held with honor to himself and satisfaction to the Senators. Mr. Gardner was a lawyer by profession, and in former years was very successful in practice. He was a man deeply respected wherever known, and his death will be profoundly regretted by a large circle of friends in all parts of the State.

CONVICT LABOR.
We publish to-day the report of the Committee on Charities and Penal Institutions, to whom was referred the Senate bill to repeal chapter 201 of the Revised Statutes of 1873, relating to the prison labor contract. The bill for the repeal of the law of last winter, was gotten up by some parties in Milwaukee on the ground that the manufacture of boots and shoes at Waupun by the convicts in the State Prison, materially interferes with their trade; in other words it creates a competition which the Milwaukee boot and shoe dealers are not willing to meet. The report treats the question in a very candid manner, and gives valuable statistics to support their position. The amount paid by the contractors for work and material and so on, all of which was expended in the State, was $169,970.73 in 1878, or if the Milwaukee parties please, they paid to the State and to citizens of the State, $82,495.00 in excess of their total sales in Wisconsin. Those who now petition that the convict labor on boots and shoes be set aside, must remember that if that were done, it would make no difference with the shoe interests of this State. M. D. Wells & Co. or any other firm, have a right to send their agents into Wisconsin and to introduce their goods. No one can deny them this right, and if Wells & Co. did not have the contract to work the convicts at Waupun, they would still retain the State as a field of operation, and would sell as many goods manufactured elsewhere, as they now do. Hence, the Milwaukee dealers, or the wholesale dealers of other places, would not be benefited in the least by the rescinding of the contract with Wells & Co., but on the other hand, the State would meet with a heavy loss. The question is narrowed down to this: Is it justice and policy for the State of Wisconsin to annul the contract and lose $40,000, or $50,000 a year—adding that much to the burden of taxation—for the express purpose of furthering the interests of private parties in Milwaukee? Those who desire to know more on the subject of letting the convict labor, are referred to the very excellent report of Senator Richardson which will be found in another column.

TILDEN AND THE CIPHERS.
Although the Potter Committee charged with the investigation of the cipher dispatches, have been in session but three days, they have gone far enough to get something definite regarding certain of the telegrams which passed between Gramercy Park and Tilden's friends in South Carolina in November, 1876. They have already got the shameful confession of one of the Democratic leaders who figured prominently in the scheme to buy an electoral vote for the purpose of placing Mr. Tilden in the Presidential chair. Among the telegraphic curiosities of that memorable campaign, when ciphers were used in order to throw darkness over the attempt to steal the great office of President of the United States, in this dispatch sent from Columbus, South Carolina, on the 28th day of November, 1876, to Henry Havemeyer, New York, who was one of Mr. Tilden's bosom friends, and one of his lieutenants in conducting the canvass:
A majority of the 5 and have been secured. Cost is $10,000, to be sent as follows: One parcel of $5,000, one of $10,000 and one of $5,000, all to be $500 or $1,000 bills, notes to be deposited as parties accept and given to upon a vote of land of Hampton (i. e. State of South Carolina) being given to Tilden's friends. These three parcels should be sent without inscription, and to-night, unless you should receive a telegram from the countermanding. Shall try to secure everything by the plan of deposit. The friends of Chamberlain and Bavaria (?) are here in force, and I fear their money and careful watching and intimidation of the board. For God's sake, let it go if you can. Be safe in Florida or Africa (?). Do this at once, and have cash ready to reach to Baltimore Sunday night. Telegraph decided whether it will be done. (Signed) W.
This was sent by Mr. Smith M. Weed, of New York, who went South for Mr. Tilden to see what could be done in the way of making a purchase of the Returning Board or an electoral vote. This dispatch was sent in ciphers, but Mr. Weed, before the Potter Committee as a witness, testifies that he sent such a dispatch, and that the translation was substantially correct! He thought that the sum offered was $60,000 instead of $80,000, as given in the dispatch. Mr. Weed makes other shameful confessions before the Committee concerning the cipher telegrams. His testimony, however, goes to show that it is the intention to shield Mr. Tilden entirely, and to throw the responsibility of writing and receiving the cipher dispatches and making proposals to purchase the electoral vote of South Carolina, Louisiana, and Oregon, on his poor nephew, Pelton, who was Mr. Tilden's secretary. This may satisfy a few Democrats who believe Mr. Tilden is innocent, but it will not convince the country that he knew nothing of what was going on, especially when all the work was being done at his own residence, in his own library room where he did all his work, and by his own private secretary and nephew. Under these conditions it is ridiculous to suppose that Tilden knew nothing at all about the attempt to make him President by fraud. Commenting on the cipher investigation, the Evening Wisconsin closes an article thus: "The testimony thus shows beyond question that the cipher dispatches as interpreted by the New York Tribune are substantially verified; that there was a deliberate attempt on the part of Pelton and others to purchase the electoral vote of South Carolina; that the matter was brought to the attention of Tilden, but that while he appeared angry at Pelton, he did not dismiss him from his confidence. Notwithstanding this, Tilden, in his letter, published last fall, said most emphatically that he never knew of any attempt to purchase electoral votes until long after the transaction was alleged to have occurred. Here is a plain contradiction—Tilden is apparently convicted of a deliberate falsehood. And if he is false in one thing what reason is there to believe that he is not false in all, and that he was not at the bottom of this whole scheme of fraud?"

The latest reports from Michigan are that there is a probability that Senator Christianity will not resign during the present session. He is a croaking, disreputable, dried up old man, means well enough but is too feeble in body and too unbalanced in mind, to be of any service to the Senate. He wanted the Peruvian Mission for health's sake. The President generously gave it to him. He went home to resign, but when he reached Michigan the ring of politicians opposed to Chandler began to use their influence in preventing Christianity's resignation. They got about him with a plea that he should remain in the Senate during the present session at least. The foolish old man listen to the entreaties of the tricksters, and now he has had a mind that he don't want the Mission to Peru even at $10,000 a year and a good chance of improving his shattered health. The only way Senator Christianity can keep Zach Chandler out of the Senate for the next two years is to keep the seat himself. If he should go to Peru, Chandler will go to the Senate, and the clique which seems to own Christianity can't prevent it.

"Resolved, As the judgment of the Senate, that the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments to the constitution of the United States have been legally ratified, and are as valid and of the same paramount authority as any part of the constitution." Every Democratic vote in the United States Senate was recorded against this declaration of loyalty. A blunder for the Democracy.

Mr. I. A. Hoxie, editor and proprietor of the Evansville Review, offers that paper for sale with all its fixtures and franchises. The office contains a Cincinnati double medium hand press, (24x46) a quarto medium Globe press, and an eight medium Star. A Hoe paper cutter, and a Ruggles card cutter, with a large outfit of news and job type. The office is well appointed in every particular. The terms are reasonable.

"Resolved, That it is the duty to provide by law for the full and impartial protection of all citizens of the United States," says Edmund's resolution, and every Democratic vote in the Senate was cast against it. Another egregious blunder for the Democratic party.

Dodger David Davis, who is sometimes called Senator from Illinois, dodged the vote on Edmund's resolution. Davis would have been stunned by astonishment himself had he taken sides in this matter. His party don't believe in taking sides on anything.

The Chicago Journal suggests that inasmuch as Mr. Washburn can't give the Edgewood property to the State, that he try some private parties. There are very few private parties who could afford to take the famous Edgewood as a gift.

The Senate Committee on Education reported this morning in favor of the school book bill. It is not probable that it will go through both houses without being amended in two or three particulars.

Weed acknowledges that the Democrats could not find a Republican elector in the South who would take $80,000 for his vote though that sum was offered.

The Senate has passed the bill making ex-Governor C. C. Washburn an honorary life member of the Board of University Regents.

Has Senator Davis missed anything?—Chicago Times.
Nothing but his calling.

CENSUS BILL.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—Senator Morrill carried through the Senate this afternoon the bill reported from the Select Committee on the Tenth Census, of which he is Chairman, which provides for the United States, on the 1st of June, 1880. Senator Conkling had the bill amended in several respects, but it was then so unsatisfactory to him and four or five other Republicans that they voted against it. The bill now goes to the House, where it will be antagonized by the same purpose which has been reported by S. S. Cox, and made a special order for next Tuesday. Should the House prefer the Cox bill to the Morrill bill, it may be possible for a Committee of Conference to harmonize the difference, and form a bill which will be satisfactory at each end of the avenue.

BRIEFLETS.

Colds are plenty.
—Temple of Honor night.
—Revival meetings still in progress.
—One case of scarlet fever is reported in the first ward.
—Janesville gives tit for tat. A poor show gives a poor show here.
—Rev. H. M. Simmons, of Kenosha, is in the city, a guest of Rev. Jenk Li Jones.
—Most of the visiting clergy of the Episcopal Convocation left for their homes to-day.
—Valentine Bro's. have hoisted over their telegraph school a huge sign which he who runs can read.
—Miss Emma Clark who, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the lungs last Monday, is a little better.
—Mrs. Mattie A. Bridge has decided to lecture in Court street church next Tuesday evening on "Life in Florida."
—Dickerson is said to be in daily communication with a young lady who lives not far from Janesville. More mystery.
—Miss Exilda Lachapelle is pursuing her weary trip at Chicago. She is walking in Folly theatre—a very appropriate title.
—A hoe was sent through the Janesville postoffice yesterday. It had no handle, but was handled by the clerks as they shoved it into the mail bag.
—The Beloit Graphic grumbles because some Janesville tinner failed to pay his hotel bill there. It is too bad that so slight a cause should cause a business stagnation there.

—Some of the so-called cord-wood which is brought to the city and offered for sale consists of limbs. The limbs won't catch cold, for they have drawers, if they haven't got any buyers.
—There will be a Sunday School prayer meeting at the First Methodist church to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in which all interested in Sunday School work, without regard to denomination, are cordially invited to participate.

—Mrs. H. A. Smith returned home last evening. The rendition of Queen Esther at Iowa City, in which she sang as the queen, proved a grand success and she won many high compliments. On her return she spent several days in Chicago.

—Charlie Sanborn, the grocer, was driving along West Milwaukee street this morning when he was taken with a sudden chill, and was so sick as to be compelled to stop at J. W. Nash's store, until he had recovered sufficiently to be taken home.

—The fellow who stood at Milwaukee street bridge all day counting the passers-over, claims to have seen in ten hours 3,458 people on the bridge, but the fellow who slipped down on the icy walk, says he is sure he saw that many people in just ten seconds.

—Col. G. E. Dunbar, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, is in the city, looking over the prospects for having Ann Eliza Young or Gen. Fitzpatrick lecture here under the auspices of some society. The militia boys haven't decided yet whether to fall into the plan or not.

—Col. Burr Robbins and wife started this morning for an Eastern trip. They will stop at Paw Paw, Michigan, where they have many friends, and will also visit the birthplace of Mrs. Robbins, in Ohio, as well as the old home of Mr. Robbins. They will also visit Buffalo, New York, and other cities in the East. A safe journey, a joyous time, and a speedy return is the wish of many here.

—Among the tramps who were run yesterday was a fresh youth, who hasn't been at the business long enough to have got his eye-teeth out. He got his hair cut though. The other tramps in jail persuaded him that he ought to have his hair clipped close, and he consented to let them do the job. A worse looking case of head-chopping never was seen. It looked as though checked off by a corn-planter, and shorn by a threshing machine. He'll get over it in a few weeks, and will know better next time.

—Last evening the Brodhead Temple of Honor celebrated its third anniversary. Col. Watrous was present, as were also E. L. Dimock, B. F. Crossett, and A. D. Wickham, of this city. There was a jocular conspiracy on foot to telegraph to Crossett's friends here from Monroe last evening that he had got to talking and couldn't stop and to send down more help to cut short his speech, but owing to the fact that the telegraph operator had gone to sleep the plan failed to work, and Ben was allowed to complete his speech. All hands had a jolly good time, there was a big feed, and a warm one, and plenty of music for those who wanted to dance.

EDUCATIONAL.

Rev. D. E. Jackson, of Black River Falls, is on a visit to this city with a view of establishing a classical school of the best order. As a teacher his prestige is of a flattering kind, and would be further increased by this enterprise. The need for such a school in Janesville is sorely felt in many quarters, while the benefit from the presence of such an agency in the interests of higher education would be sensibly beneficial to the whole community. Mr. Jackson's stay for the present will be but for a few days.

PERSONAL.

The Whitewater Register speaks the following kindly words of one of Janesville's lady lawyers:

Miss Angie King, who was elected "postmaster" at Janesville ten years ago, at a popular election held at the instance of Congressman Hopkins to ascertain who was the choice of the citizens for that office, but who afterwards failed to get the appointment, has recently passed a highly creditable examination and been admitted to the bar in Rock county. Miss Lavinia Goodell and Miss King have formed a partnership and opened an office near the post-office. So, when you see the sign "Goodell & King, Attorneys at Law," remember that it signifies that two very worthy, intelligent, sensible and competent ladies pass the hours of business there and help themselves in readiness to draw your will, sue your neighbor or get you a divorce, and all in good style.

MARSHAL KEATING'S FUNERAL.

The funeral services of Marshal M. H. Keating were held this afternoon. Many there were who joined in paying a last, befitting tribute to him. In accordance with the arrangements already announced, a procession was formed on West Milwaukee street; the Sack Company taking the lead followed by St. Patrick's Band. Next came the Mayor, and city officers. St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society took the next position, and the officers and members of the two fire companies followed, all dressed in uniform. The procession marched to the residence of the deceased, where were gathered many sorrowing and sympathizing friends and citizens.

The remains were taken to St. Patrick's church where appropriate services were conducted by Father Doyle. The choir rendered very touchingly a "Miserere" at the opening of the service, and later, Mrs. St. John sang a solo from the Messiah, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Prof. Titcomb presided at the organ, and the other services were in accordance with the usages of the Catholic faith. J. B. Fitzgibbon, Michael Watson, J. G. Todd, Wm. Hemming, Stephen Delaney and D. Davies served as pall-bearers. At the close of the services the procession re-formed, and with many friends followed the remains to the cemetery.

The large number in attendance indicates, at least faintly, the true sorrow which is felt throughout the community at the death of this esteemed citizen and efficient officer. All feel that the loss is their own, and long will it be before the life which has thus gone out will be forgotten.

OBITUARY.

JOSEPH A. WOOD.

Death has suddenly claimed as its own another of Janesville's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens—Joseph A. Wood. He was in unusually good health until last Sunday night, when he was taken quite seriously ill, but from this attack he seemed to gradually rally, and this morning was feeling much better, and expressed a desire to get up, thinking that his strength and health were so much better as to warrant it. Shortly after 10 o'clock, as he was sitting up in bed, eating his breakfast, he was struck by paralysis, and in a few moments breathed his last.

Mr. Wood was born in New York state in 1809, and was consequently in his seventy-ninth year. After spending his boyhood days in Dutchess county, he removed to Troy, where he afterwards engaged in mercantile business. He came to the West about 1849, and after stopping for a few months in Milwaukee, removed to this city, where he has since resided. In the earlier years of his residence here he was engaged in the hardware business on Main street. Afterwards he engaged in the milling business, being for a year or two the proprietor of the "big mill," afterwards buying a mill in Albany. He next engaged in shoe manufacturing at Oshkosh, though he kept his home still in Janesville. The last active business in which he was engaged was as a partner of H. S. Hoggoboom in the coal and wood trade. In all his business matters he was characterized by promptness, activity and fairness. He never sacrificed the principle of right for the policy of expediency, and his business record is one which has ever commanded the respect and confidence of all with whom he came in contact.

Socially he was much esteemed, and had a host of warm friends. He was always adverse to taking any part in public life, and though urged by friends and admirers persistently refused to allow his name to be used in any political contest for office. It is related of him that at one time his friends insisted on nominating him for the Mayoralty, and though he declined to accept, they placed a ticket in the field. He thereupon went to the polls and worked with might and main in favor of the opposing candidate, telling all whom he met, that he would not seek the place and would not accept it, under any circumstances, and as a consequence the other ticket won.

For nearly thirty years he has been a vestryman in Trinity Episcopal church, and has been a most faithful and devoted follower of that religious faith. His character has been such as to allow no reproach to fall upon his faith or his account. By his death the church suffers a heavy loss does also the community in which he has lived so long.

Mr. Wood has four children living, his only daughter Emma, and three sons, one of whom, William, is in Milwaukee, another, Joseph, lives in Kansas, and Samuel, who lives here.

The date of the funeral services will be announced hereafter.

A FIRE IN ROCK.

Shortly after 12 o'clock last night the residence of William Blanchard, in the town of Rock, was burned to the ground, together with most of the contents. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard were at Alton last evening visiting friends, leaving at home their son, Edward Blanchard, and William Whitnall, who teaches in that neighborhood. These two were asleep upstairs when they were awakened about twelve o'clock, by suffocating smoke, and hastening to dress, found that the lower part of the house was on fire. They succeeded in removing the parlor furniture, and the bedding of their own room. About the same time Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard returned, but nothing more could be done to stay the blaze. It was impossible to utilize the wind mill pump, and about all that could be done was to stand by and watch the house and contents go into ashes. Had it not been that the night was very still the barn would probably have gone too, but as it was, it was saved. Mr. Blanchard's loss will reach about $900. He has an insurance of $400 on the house and $300 on the furniture, the policies being in the Hartford, of which Lowell & Ripley are the agents. The fire is supposed to have originated from a kerosene lamp which was hanging in a bracket fastened to the wall. The light was turned down low, and it is supposed the lamp exploded, though the young men in the house knew nothing about it until the smoke went through the house. The fire when first discovered was fiercest in the corner of the room where the lamp was, and this and other circumstances give rise to the supposition that it was the cause. Mr. Blanchard and family will take up their residence in the city until he can build again in the old site.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 10 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 36 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 35 and 49 degrees above.

PLUNDERING A HOUSE.

Yesterday afternoon the house of George Thorburn, in the town of Janesville, was entered and ransacked while the family were absent. The bureau-drawers were opened, their contents scattered about, cupboards and closets were put in a confused state by the search for plunder, and the drilliness of the house generally disturbed. Several articles of value were taken, but the chief loss was $50 in cash. A fellow was seen prowling about the neighborhood and he is supposed to have been the plunderer. He was watched for some distance, but the burglary was not discovered until after he had plenty of time to get well out of the way, so that his whereabouts have not yet been learned. If he will call upon Mr. Thorburn, he will learn of something which will interest him, but even this won't probably tempt him to call, at least when the family are at home.

Quicken the Circulation.

Don't let the blood stagnate in your veins. You can prevent its doing so by increasing its volume and purity, by stimulating the digestive organs, and encouraging assimilation, with that matchless vitalizing agent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. People not afflicted with any organic or inorganic disease, grow wan and haggard simply because their blood is thin, watery, deficient in nourishing properties and so meager in quantity that the extremities are very imperfectly supplied with it, and the superficial circulation extremely feeble. Hence the bloodless appearance of the countenance. But when the Bitters are used to enrich and quicken the blood, the rosy hue of health returns to the cheek, the frame acquires substance as well as vigor, the appetite improves, and no digestive qualms interfere either with its gratification or the subsequent tranquility of the stomach.

It Stopped the Cough!

From the Hon. James Ross, Grand Lecturer, L. O. G. T. W.

I take great pleasure in giving testimony to the efficacy of Hale's Cough Cordial in easily curing a persistent cough and catarrh. For a month while engaged nightly in public speaking, I had suffered with an annoying cough which stubbornly resisted the various cough remedies that I had taken. Through the advice of friends I fortunately gave Hale's Cough Cordial a trial, and my coughing ceased at once, and the following day it had done its work completely and I felt all right. The first dose went directly to the cold spot in my lungs, and in the midst of a general warmth and perspiration the stubborn cough seemed to dissolve. In gratitude and esteem, I am, Yours truly, JAMES ROSS.

Mrs. A. W. Waterman is continued as matron and housekeeper of the establishment, and cannot be excused in her department by any lady in America.

The location of the House and its recent improvements excels any other in the beautiful city of Madison. The table will continue as it has been in the past, the best in the northwest. For further particulars, ladies and gentlemen, call and see for yourselves.

J. VAN ETTA, Proprietor.
Madison, Nov. 1st, 1878.

Mrs. Sarah A. Elliott.

Authoress of "Mrs. Elliott's Housewife," Oxford, N. C. writes: I was among the first to use the "London Hair Color Restorer" in this section, and recommended it to M. & C. A. Sante, Norfolk, Va., as the most beautiful hair dresser and preserver I had ever seen. I was advised by an eminent physician to use it. Since doing so, it has proved so satisfactory in restoring and beautifying my hair, as well as strengthening my eyesight, that I have recommended it to the druggists here in Oxford, Raleigh, and a great many of my friends, and believe I have from what others say, caused it to have a wide and extended sale, and deservedly so, as it certainly is the most cleanly and effective hair restorer now before the American people. The "London Hair Color Restorer" can be obtained at all the leading druggists at 75 cents a bottle, or $4 for six bottles.

Itching Piles.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night as if pin worms were crawling in and about the rectum, the private parts are sometimes affected; if allowed to continue, very serious results may follow. Dr. Swayne's All Healing Ointment is a pleasant sure cure.

HOME CURES.—We were great sufferers from Itching Piles, the symptoms were as above described; the use of Swayne's Ointment in a short time made a perfect cure.

J. W. CHRIST, Boot and Shoe House, 331 N. Second Street.

T. C. WEYMAN, Hatter, 8 South Eighth Street, Philadelphia.

Reader, if you are suffering from this distressing complaint, or Tetter, Itch, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Barber's Itch, any Crusty Skin Eruption, use Swayne's Ointment and be cured. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price, (in currency or postage stamps.) 50 cents a box three boxes $1.25. Address letters, Dr. Swayne & Son, 330 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia. No charge for advice. Sold by leading druggists.
